

1 2011. We moved to North Carolina at the same time; she was there during the hiking
2 trespassing arrest. She stayed on the couch at my place in Olympia for awhile.

3 Interrogatory No. 10:

4 Ricky Vertolli is a friend whom I have known since about 2011; I met him in North
5 Carolina. We were roommates in Olympia.

6
7 Interrogatory No. 11:

8 Injuries: generally banged up, soreness, glasses were broken, crippling fear of a 9 pending felony charge for a year and a half, the terror of being strapped to a bed at the 10 hospital and having my blood drawn (being restrained was scary). The terror of being 11 handcuffed and unrestrained in the back of a paddy wagon. Nightmares.

12
13 Interrogatory No. 12:

14 Discussed this case with Ricky Vertolli and Nadine Shade, activist friend Jordan (can't 15 recall last name), and everyone in life, at least in passing because the stress of the 16 pending charge was ever-present: co-worker, roommates, younger sister in Wisconsin.

18
19 Interrogatory No. 13:

20 I did not commit any crimes, and therefore there was no probable cause for a lawful
21 arrest. I was arrested only after Renihan assaulted me, which later sought to justify
22 through his false claim that I attacked him.

23
24 Renihan was dressed in plain clothes; he did not present as a cop nor did he identify as

1 one. He was waving a camera in my face, insisting that he had every right to record. It
2 was an already scary situation with the identifiable cops acting aggressively. This
3 tapped into my ever-present fear of being attacked for being a queer person, which was
4 a daily reality when I was growing up in the Midwest and it still persists to this day in
5 “liberal” Seattle. People would yell at me for walking down the street; I have had a
6 person threaten to kill me for sitting on the bus talking with a friend. My defense
7 mechanism is to yell back at these attackers to scare them off, much like making
8 yourself large when an aggressive animal is threatening to attack. Very recently I was
9 cat-called by teenage boys, when they realized I am transgendered, they chased me
10 down the street and threw bottles at me.

11
12 Interrogatory No. 14:

13 I was peacefully assembling, I was not breaking anything, I was not engaged in any 14 criminal activity nor had I been involved in any criminal activity. The video shows that 15 I’m walking away from Renihan when he assaults me.

16
18 Interrogatory No. 15:

19 Both fabricated the evidence that I took a swing or attempted to hit Renihan. Friesen
20 further fabricated the evidence that Renihan knocked me backwards and that he then
21 “closed the distance” between us. Instead, as the video shows, he merely punched me
22 and tackled me out of anger for my words to him.

23 I did not break anything, I did not hit Renihan, I did not threaten him; he zeroed in on 24 me, and I tried to get away after verbally venting at him.
